RE: SUBCONTRACTOR LETTER OF COMMITMENT (VETERAN-OWNED BUSINESS)

Dear Mr. Geans,

On behalf of Quest4 Electronics, thank you for the opportunity to work with Parkdale Aftercare, LLC (d/b/a Indiana Professionals Recovery Program (IPRP)).

The purpose of this letter is to acknowledge that Quest4 Electronics agrees to provide technology solutions to IPRP at a cost of at least $40,000 over a period of two consecutive years in connection with Indiana RFP 22-69833. Specific pricing for services performed will be based on market and supply-chain conditions at the time services are requested.

Per your discussion with Jeff Worthington on our Sales Team, we understand that you are looking to improve the audio and visual experience for the IPRP Team and the persons it serves (State Boards, participants, etc). This will include setting up three conference rooms with full video and audio-conferencing capability for the use by members of IPRP Team. Due to the shift to a more 'virtual environment' since COVID-19, you expressed a desire to have a contingency plan by having one back-up location fully equipped to conduct your business with the State in the event your primary location was not functional or accessible.

Quest4 Electronics understands that the annual contract IPRP is bidding for is valued at approximately $660,000. The $40,000 of services provided by Quest4 Electronics over the initial 24-month contract term represents 3.03% of the total contract value. Should IPRP not receive state approval for the contract, Quest4 Electronics understands the services discussed herein will not be needed.

Formerly Risley's Electronics, Quest4 Electronics is a veteran-owned and operated business specializing in televisions, video conferencing, and visual and audio presentations. We have provided many technology services for corporate boardrooms, corporate meeting spaces, and universities. We pride ourselves on attention to detail and dedication to serving our clients. To learn more about Quest4 Electronics, please visit our website at www.quest4electronics.com.

Again, thank you for this opportunity and we look forward to working with the IPRP Team!

Sincerely,
