Friday, September 27, 2002 --

(All parties present in the meeting room at or about 10:15. a.m.)

MR. VOWELS: It is September 27th, 2002, at approximately 10:15 a.m. All the Commissioners present, except Commissioner Carlton and Commissioner Ross. We do have a quorum. We will call the meeting to order. And before we do the approval of the minutes, is there anything that you would like to address?

MR. THAR: Just briefly. This is a repeat of what I had announced at the prior meeting, but now that we have her here, alive and in person, we again would like to introduce our new Commissioner Marya Mernitz Rose. Marya resides in Indianapolis, Indiana, with her husband, and is Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary for Cummins, Inc. Miss Rose served as an Executive Assistant to both Govenors Bayh and O'Bannon prior to taking her present position at Cummins; and she did not have a conflict at this time, and we welcome you as our newest commission member.

MS. ROSE: Thank you. I'm delighted to be here.

MR. THAR: And we always give the new person five to ten minutes to (general laughter) speak freely on any topics, so. . .

THAR: No. Not at this time. 6 approval of minutes. 7 The next matter of the business 8 MR. VOWELS: meeting agenda is the approval of the minutes from our July 29th, 2002, meeting in Indianapolis; and I will 10 note for the record that in Report of Executive 11 Director, the second paragraph, where it makes 12 reference to Ms. Rose, the word "treasurer" should be 13 replaced by "secretary" and the word "Engine" should 14 15 be deleted and the new word "incorporated" should be inserted, and with those corrections in mind, I 16 17 believe we've all had the opportunity to review these minutes. Is there a motion in reference to the 18 approval of these minutes? 19 20 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Move to approve the minutes. 21 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? MR. MILCAREK: Second. 22 MR. VOWELS: All in favor say "aye". 23 (Ayes in unison.) 24 MR. VOWELS: Show the minutes are approved. 25 And with what Ms. Rose is saying, is that she wasn't here at that time.

The next matter on the agenda is the Report of the Executive Director. Mr. Thar, what do you have for us?

MR. THAR: I have very little today, thank you.

Most important what we have done, since our last meeting, is included in the agenda, and also the public hearing agenda, agendas for both this business meeting and public hearing. However, one thing I would like to do is, it gives me great pleasure to introduce to all people here present Mr. Glenn

Lawrence, who is seated at the far end of the table here. Mr. Lawrence will be taking my place. I think that my last day in the office is October 11th, and my last day on the payroll is October 18th. Glenn will take over running the office on October -- the day - the first business day following October 11th, which is a Tuesday after Columbus Day, is that right?

MR. LAWRENCE: Right.

MR. THAR: Glenn is presently the Commissioner that is the head of the Department of Administration. He has served in numerous capacities under both Governors Bayh and O'Bannon. I believe he's been involved in state government since approximately 1989;

MR. THAR: Okay. And also without any notice, you're now afforded six to eight minutes to introduce MR. LAWRENCE: Never speak more than the Commissioners, so I'll just follow Marya's lead. MR. THAR: In any event, I think that Glenn will find that this is a wonderful job; that the Commission he works with has the utmost integrity and has the best interests of the State of Indiana and entirety of gaming at heart, and that the Governor's choice, I think, will prove out to be the best choice that could have been made to take over this position. So, I wish And that concludes my report. I figure, no MR. VOWELS: All right, thank you. Is there any old business? Hearing none, we will move forward to the new business, and, Miss Brodnan, you're first up here with a number of game approvals. MS. BRODNAN: Good morning. You have before you for approval Resolution Number 2002-23, regarding which was submitted by Shuffle Master Gaming. Caesar's Indiana has indicated that it will offer the game of Monopoly Blackjack if the Commission approves it for play today. Gaming Laboratories International has analyzed the game and has submitted a letter to the Commission stating that it is a variation of the already-approved game of Blackjack. Monopoly Blackjack offers an optional side bet to the traditional game of Blackjack; the side bet allows players to qualify to play a Monopoly bonus round if dealt the Blackjack of a particular type during the underlying game. There are two different side bets that can be made and two pay tables corresponding with each. Players can either bet that they won't receive any Blackjack or that they will receive a blackjack of a particular color. The player gets the bonus round then only if they get the correct one. Once the player's in the bonus round, he or she has two options: One, to either take a fixed payout; or, two, to choose to spin the bonus wheel. If the player chooses the bonus wheel, an animated token moves around the Monopoly a board that is attached to the The player will receive the award associated with the square which the token lands on. player lands on a "Chance" or "Community Chest" square, the player's randomly given one of five equally weighted awards. If the player lands on "Jail" or "Go To Jail", he does not receive an award, however the other players at the table receive a "Good Samaritan" bonus. The payout percentage of the game varies with the number of players, due to the fact that the "Good Samaritan" bonus is awarded more often when there are more players. With using the bonus board, the payout percentage of the game ranges from 80 to 93 percent, when betting on any Blackjack option, or from 87 to 90 percent when betting a specific color. Monopoly Blackjack requires the addition of equipment to the standard Blackjack table, which includes a game control unit, a dealer console and a visual display. This software/equipment were also analyzed by Gaming Laboratories International, who indicated that the device does work as documented by Shuffle Master.

Commission staff recommends that you grant conditional approval of Monopoly Blackjack.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions, then, for Ms.

Brodnan? Thank you. Then, in front us we have Resolution 2002-23, which is "Conditional Approval of the Game of Monopoly Blackjack". Is there a motion in reference to this resolution?

The Monopoly Blackjack that I 12 just mentioned was not submitted by Shuffle Master, 13 14 but was submitted by Mikhon Gaming Corporation. Crazy 15 4 Poker was submitted by Shuffle Master. Caesar's Indiana has also indicated that they would like to 16 offer this game as well and has submitted proposed 17 rules and internal control procedures. 18 Gaming Laboratories International has 19 20 submitted an analysis letter of this game, also, and indicated that this variation be approved to the game 21 of poker. Crazy 4 Poker features head-to-head play 22 against the dealer, and bonus bets. One bet is 23 mandatory, which is called the super bonus bet; the 24 other is an optional called the bonus bet. of game is to make a four-card poker hand that beats the dealer's hand. Prior to dealing the cards, players must place two bets. An ante bet and a required super bonus bet. These bets must be in equal amounts. These facilitate the head-to-head play against the dealer. After these two bets have been placed, players will receive five cards. After they look at their cards and choose one of two options to either fold and lose all their bets that have been placed, or remain in the game, which requires the player to place an additional bet referred to the "play bet". The player then makes his or her best four-card poker hand, which is compared with the dealer's hand. Brodnan. The next matter on the agenda is by Ms.
Chelf.

MS. CHELF: Good morning, everyone.

Commissioners, you have before you have Resolution

2002-25, pertaining to the Indiana Administrative Code. In 1996, the Indiana General Assembly enacted a Bill that provides for the expiration of all rules promulgated under Indiana Code 4-22-2.5, these rules will expire on January 1st of the seventh year after they are adopted; therefore, in order to ensure that the rules remain in effect, the Commission must complete a readoption process. The rules affected by this legislation this year are listed on this Resolution 2002-25. This resolution has the effect of approving proposed readoption -- the final readoption of these articles without amendment.

Hearing was held on August 6th, 2002, to consider these rules for final readoption; no comments were made at that hearing. However, you may remember Article 4 was formerly a part of this list; the Commissioners received a request to consider it separately so that that Article will undergo a separate readoption process. If the Commission approves this amendment, the list of rules will be published -- will be filed with the Secretary of State

1 and published as final readoption in the Indiana 2 Register. 3 MR. VOWELS: Any questions, then, for Ms. Chelf? Then, we have in front of us "Resolution 2002-25", 5 which is the resolution dealing with the final 6 readoption of the articles that's listed in the 7 Indiana Administrative Code, Title 68. Is there a 8 motion in reference to this resolution? MR. MILCAREK: I move to adopt. 10 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? 11 MR. GETTLEFINGER: Second. 12 MS. ROSE: Second. 13 MR. VOWELS: Any further discussion? All those 14 favor say "aye". 15 (Ayes in unison.) 16 MR. VOWELS: We will show that it is adopted and 17 approved. 18 So, then, Ms. Brodnan, we will go back to you. 19 MS. BRODNAN: Yes. 20 MR. VOWELS: Thank you, Ms. Chelf. 21 MS. BRODNAN: On or about January 31st, 2001, Mr. 22 Leonard Lock submitted an application for a level 2 23 occupational license to work at Grand Victoria as a 24 cage cashier. The application for a license states 25 the question, "Have you ever been convicted of a felony?" Mr. Lock checked "Yes" in response to this question.

Pursuant to Indiana Code, the Commission may not issue an occupational license to an individual who has been convicted of a felony. Despite the fact that Mr. Lock indicated he does have a felony conviction, he was issued a license in error.

The Commission later discovered that Mr. Lock was convicted in 1983 of lewd/lascivious acts/behavior in St. Petersburg, Florida, which is a felony conviction. As a result, on or about April 29th, 2002, Mr. Lock's temporary license was revoked and his occupational license -- his application for a permanent license was denied.

Mr. Lock submitted a request for a felony waiver on or about May 8th. I served as the Review Officer for the hearing, which was conducted on the property of Grand Victoria on June 26th.

Mr. Lock was notified in writing of the date, time and location of the hearing; a letter was sent certified mail on June 4th; return receipt indicates that he received and signed for the letter on June 17th.

I also attempted to contact Mr. Lock by telephone, leaving a message at his residence on June 17th, 18th and 19th; Mr. Lock did not respond to the 1 messages, and he failed to appear for the review 2 3 hearing on June 26th. Therefore, it is the recommendation this 4 Review Officer that his request for felony waiver be 5 denied. 6 MR. VOWELS: Any questions for Ms. Brodnan? 7 Then, in front of us is the "Indiana Gaming Commission 8 9 Order Concerning Felony Waiver Request of Leonard Lock". Our purpose is to adopt or reject the 10 recommendation of the Review Officer, denying the 11 request. Is there a motion to adopt or reject her 12 recommendation? 13 14 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I move to adopt her 15 recommendation; meaning that we will deny his request. MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? 16 17 MR. MILCAREK: Second. MR. VOWELS: Any further discussion? All those in 18 favor say "aye". 19 20 (Ayes in unison.) MR. VOWELS: Your recommendation is adopted, and 21 22 you have many more for us. 23 MS. BRODNAN: Yes. MR. VOWELS: Go ahead. 24 25 MS. BRODNAN: The next is Andrea McCart.

about May 21st, 1996, Miss McCart submitted an application for Level 3 license to work at Trump as a bartender. Ms. McCart listed three alcohol-related traffic arrests on her application, but did not indicate any of the them resulted in a felony conviction; therefore, she was issued a temporary occupational license in May of 1996. A background investigation was conducted regarding her criminal history, and it was uncovered that one of the arrests did result in a felony conviction. In 1988, she was arrested for reckless driving, driving under the influence and habitual traffic offender and entered into a plea agreement on June 27th of 1991, where she pled guilty to operating while intoxicated, a Class D Felony, and the other charges were dismissed.

Pursuant to this conviction, her temporary license was revoked and her application for a permanent license denied on June 26th, 2002.

Miss McCart submitted a felony waiver on or about June 28th. I served as Review Officer for the hearing, which was held July 31st at the Trump Hotel.

Miss McCart did disclose her criminal record on her application; however, she failed to indicate that she did have a felony conviction. She stated at the review hearing that she did not recall that any of the charges resulted in a felony conviction. She agreed that she did sign the plea agreement and that it was her signature, but stated she may not have read the entire document and that she was nervous at the time she signed it. All three of her arrests occurred during her 20's. At the time of the hearing, Miss McCart was 42 years old. She has not been in any criminal trouble since her 1988 arrest. successfully completed the terms of her plea agreement, and she stated that she no longer drinks alcohol and often acts as a designated driver for others. None of Miss McCart's three DUI arrests resulted in any traffic accident or injury to others; she has worked as a bartender at Trump Casino for approximately six years without incident. Due to this fact, it is the recommendation of this Review Officer that you grant Miss McCart's request for a waiver.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions for Ms. Brodnan?

All right, then, in front of us is the "Order

Concerning the Felony Waiver Request of Andrea McCart". Is there a motion to adopt or reject the recommendation of Ms. Brodnan -- Brodnan to approve the felony waiver?

MR. MILCAREK: I move to adopt the resolution and to grant the waiver request.

VOWELS: Show that it is adopted and the 6 waiver requested is granted. And then, Miss Brodnan, 7 more for us? 8 MS. BRODNAN: Yes, John Frazier submitted an 10 application to work as a security officer at Horseshoe Casino. On or about January 14th, 2002, he was issued 11 a temporary level 2 license. Mr. Frazier failed to 12 13 disclose several criminal charges on his application. Commission staff notified him of these charges and 14 requested that he submit court documentation showing 15 the outcomes of these charges, as well as an 16 explanation regarding why he failed to disclose them. 17 Commission staff also attempted to obtain court 18 19 documentation regarding these charges; during this process, Commission staff learned that there was an 20 active bench warrant for Mr. Frazier's arrest in 21 Muskegon County, Michigan, for failure to appear for 22 court-corded treatment. This warrant was issued on 23 March 8th, 1994. On August 10th, Commission staff 24 notified Mr. Frazier of this warrant, and instructed him to submit evidence within 10 days that he was taking steps to resolve the warrant. Mr. Frazier responded on August 19th. On August 22nd, 2002, staff contacted the Muskegon County Sheriff's Department and was advised that the warrant was still active, and that Mr. Frazier had not contacted that office regarding resolution of the warrant.

Pursuant to Indiana Code and gaming regulations, the Commission may revoke a temporary license if the Commission determines an applicant did not disclose or falsely states any information required by the application. On that basis, on August 30th, 2002, Commission staff revoked his temporary license and denied his application for a permanent license. You will need to vote to either uphold or overrule that denial.

Commission staff recommends that you deny Mr.

Frazier's application for an occupational license. If you do deny the application, he will have the opportunity to appeal to an administrative law judge.

MR. VOWELS: All right. Any questions for Ms.

Brodnan? In front of us, then, is the "Commission

Action on The Revocation of the Temporary Occupational

License and Denial of The Application For a Permanent license to an individual who, for just cause, is considered by the Commission to be unfit to hold a license. Based on the information received from Harrah's Human Resources Department, Commission staff determined that Mr. Pantinas followed improper procedures and retained tips from patrons during the performance of his duties as a Floor Supervisor at Harrah's. On that basis, the Commission staff denied his application for a license. Commission staff formally advised Mr. Pantinas of this action on September 5th.

You will need to vote to either uphold or overrule the denial. Commission staff recommends that you deny Mr. Pantinas's application for a license. If you do deny the application, he will have the opportunity to appeal to an administrative law judge.

Lai a temporary occupational license to work for Harrah's Casino as a bartender in May of 1998. It was discovered during her background investigation that she had been convicted of gambling in 1993 in Chicago, Illinois. On or about June 17th she executed a settlement agreement with Commission staff that allowed her to retain her occupational license and probationary status for six months. Prior to completing her term of probation, she was terminated from Harrah's for stealing while she was performing her duties as a bartender.

On or about November 2nd, 2000, she applied for and received a temporary occupational license to work for Trump Casino as a dealer. She failed again to reveal on her application her 1993 arrest and conviction for gambling.

On or about August 30th of 2002, the Commission staff revoked her temporary occupational license.

This action was based on the fact that, even after having been placed on probation for failing to disclose her gambling conviction, she again failed to disclose that conviction on a subsequent occupational license to work for Trump. Additionally, the conviction for a gambling violation is a problem, as previously discussed with Miss Marlatt.

Also, she -- she committed a criminal offense during the performance of her duty during the time she was licensed to work at Harrah's. For these reasons Commission staff revoked her temporary occupational license. The Commission staff recommendation is that Miss Lai's application for a license be denied.

If the Commission denies her application for an occupational license, she will have the opportunity to appeal to an administrative law judge.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions for Miss Chelf? One of the lessons to be learned here, is Miss Marlatt was forthcoming in revealing her prior record, right?

MS. CHELF: Yes.

MR. VOWELS: And I think we've been consistent over the years, the fact that people tend to forget getting arrested and going to jail is always a treat and that's -- I've had that happen with clients, I've gotten five years in prison, and that sort of thing.

My attitude has always been, if that's not that big of deal in your life and you're able to forget it, you have a lot larger problems than anything I can imagine. So, anyway, we're back to So Lai. And are there any questions for Miss. Chelf? Then, in front of us is the "Commission Action on The Revocation of The Temporary License and Application For an

The background investigation has been 15 16 completed, and VendingData has been found suitable to 17 receive a supplier's license. VendingData's primary business is the development, manufacturing and 18 marketing of the Secure Drop System, Random Ejection 19 Shuffler, Secure Drop Slide Accounting System in a 20 Secure Hopper. They've been in business since 1995, 21 and they are located in Las Vegas, Nevada. So, before 22 you is the resolution to grant VendingData Corporation 23 a supplier's license to do business in Indiana. 24 MR. VOWELS: Are there any questions for Miss 25

Marsden? All right, then, in front of us is "Resolution 2002-26, Granting a Supplier's License to 2 VendingData Corporation"; is there a motion in 3 reference to that resolution? 5 MR. GETTLEFINGER: Move to approve. 6 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? 7 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Second. 8 MR. VOWELS: Any further discussion? All those if favor of approving the resolution say "aye". 10 (Ayes in unison.) 11 MR. VOWELS: Show it is approved. And, Miss 12 Marsden, do you have another resolution for us? 13 MS. MARSDEN: The next one is Resolution 2002-27. It's a resolution concerning of the renewal of a 14 15 suppliers' licenses. On August 23rd of 2001, the 16 Commission renewed the supplier's license held by Spin 17 For Cash Wide Area Progressive Joint Venture and 18 Hornblower Marine Services. 19 The above-named supply licensees have requested 20 the renewal of their license, and renewal fees have 21 been paid in accordance with 68 IAC 2-2-3(c), and 68 22 IAC 2-2-8. 23 The Commission has determined that the above-named 24 supplier licensees remain in compliance with the 25 licensure.

Thank you. Is there -- Are there 1 MR. VOWELS: 2 any questions for Miss Marsden? Then, in front of us is resolution 2002-27, which is a resolution concerning the renewal of supplier's licenses, those names as listed in Section 4 of the resolution. Is there a motion in reference to this resolution? MR. MILCAREK: I move to adopt the resolution. MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I'll second it. 10 MR. VOWELS: Any further discussion? All those 11 in favor say "aye". 12 (Ayes in unison.) 13 MR. VOWELS: Show it as adopted. And, Miss 14 Marsden, still with you? 15 MS. MARSDEN: Yes. Okay. Resolution 2002-28 is 16 a resolution concerning the request of Riverboat 17 Services, Inc. to withdraw a supplier's license. 18 Commission issued a supplier's license to Riverboat 19 Services, Inc., RSI, on August 20th of 1999. RSI has 20 renewed its supplier's license on August 21st of 2000, 21 and August 23rd of 2001, in accordance with 68 IAC 22 2-2-8. The Commission received a request from RSI the 23 ability to withdraw its supplier's license. So, 24 before you is Resolution 2002-28, the Commission will 25 need to grant or deny the request of RSI to withdraw its supplier's license. 1 MR. VOWELS: Thank you, Miss Marsden. 2 3 questions? Then, Resolution 2002-28 concerns request for Riverboat Services, Inc. to withdraw its supplier's license. Is there a motion to grant or deny that request to withdraw? MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I move that we grant their request. MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? MS. ROSE: I'll second. 10 MR. Is that because we have dockside now, or 16 that they don't have to. . . 17 MR. THAR: No. 18 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Okay. 19 MR. THAR: With the type of dockside discussion that we have, they still need to have marine crews. 20 But most of -- a lot of the riverboat companies, when 21 they came here, did not necessarily have the expertise 22 to oversee or manage a marine crew, which they have 23 since acquired. RSI was a group that specialized in 24 25 coming in to oversee the marine activities with regard

Remember 10 all of that. 11 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: It's really hard. Whatever. 12 MR. VOWELS: All right. Thank you, Miss Marsden. 13 Miss Dean, do you have anything? 14 MS. DEAN: Yes, I do. Thank you. Commissioners, 15 you have before you Resolution 2002-29, concerning the 16 Request of International Game Technology to Collapse 17 Anchor Gaming Into International Game Technology via a 18 merger. Mr. Jerimi Ullom is representing the company 19 IGT, and he is present today. IGT is a Indiana supplier, along with Anchor at this time, and I 20 21 believe they're going to try to solidify their corporate structure and their licensing that they 22 23 have. 24 MR. ULLOM: Yes, thank you, Ms. Dean, Members of the Commission. International Game Technology 25 acquired Anchor Gaming a little less than a year ago, last December, Anchor Gaming was the, and continues to be, the parent company of Anchor Coin, which is an Indiana licensee. At that time, Anchor Gaming has remained in place merely as a holding company for the various Anchor subsidiaries. It remained in place because it had outstanding debt that was currently being traded. In June of this year, International Gaming Technology and Anchor Gaming tendered an offer for all Anchor Gaming outstanding debt; in July they received commitments to their outstanding debts, and once that is complete, there is no longer any reason for Anchor Gaming to exist, so that International Gaming Technology intends, following all their regulatory approvals, to collapse Anchor Gaming into International Gaming Technology, removing that layer in the corporate structure. This is technically a change in ownership, a change in direct ownership of Anchor Coin, being the Indiana licensee, they're known as key persons, known to all, no change of beneficial ownership. Thus the request for the waiver.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions? Before you leave, if you will make sure the reporter has your card so she can get your name --

1 MR. VOWELS: -- accurately for the record. 2 right, thank you. Then, in front of us, Resolution 2002-29, which 3 4 is in two parts, concerning the request to collapse 5 Anchor Gaming into International Game Technology via 6 merger, in the first part; let's just take it one at a 7 time. If you'll look at that. There needs to be a 8 motion to grant or deny their request from the waiver 9 of the normal transfer of ownership procedures and 10 attendant background investigations. Is there a 11 motion to grant or deny that request for the waiver? 12 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I move that we grant the request 13 for the waiver, since there are no new people. 14 MR. VOWELS: All right. Is there a second? 15 MR. MILCAREK: Second. 16 MR. VOWELS: Any further discussion? All those 17 in favor of granting the waiver say "aye". 18 (Ayes in unison.) 19 MR. VOWELS: We'll show it's granted. And then 20 we'll move to the next part, which requires a motion 21 to grant or deny their request for the approval of the 22 transfer of the direct ownership; is there a motion to 23 grant or deny that request? 24 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I'll move that we grant it. 25 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second?

BRODNAN: Blue Chip has submitted a request 11 12 to the Commission for a reduction of its surety bond. 13 Blue Chip currently has a bond posted with the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland in the amount 14 of 2.1 million dollars. The amount of one hundred 15 16 thousand dollars was posted to secure the performance 17 by Blue Chip of its obligation to install curbs, 18 gutters and sidewalks on 8th Street in Michigan City, Indiana. 19 20 The Commission has received written confirmation through the Mayor of Michigan City that Blue Chip has 21 22 satisfied this obligation. Therefore, Blue Chip 23 requests a reduction of the bond by the amount of one hundred thousand dollars. Based on its satisfaction 24 of the obligation, Commission staff recommend that you 25

And. . . my handwritten little notation 18 doesn't tell me who is handling those. MS. DEAN: Susan Murphy, although the boats would 19 20 be making their own presentations. MR. VOWELS: Okay. First matter, then, is Trump. 21 Is there someone here from Trump? Willing to address 22 the Commission on the MBE/WBE issues? 23 I think it's a matter of update. 24 regard to the Trump and Majestic Star, they have come 25

But they are present to answer any questions that we may have in that regard to the submission that they have put in; where they're at and where they think they may be going with regard to the MBE/WBE issues. I believe Mr. Keith Rogers is here, --

MR. ROGERS: Yes.

MR. THAR: -- standing in front of us, from Trump.

MR. VOWELS: All right. We have had submitted to us the Minority Owned Business Development Action Plan dated today, September 27th, 2002. We've had an opportunity to review this. Are there any questions for Mr. Rogers?

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Well, Mr. Thar brought up the question you're in compliance now. Do you feel that you can maintain -- sustain this, you can improve it, or what track do you feel you're on?

MR. ROGERS: Yes, we can -- we will be able to continue the growth that we're having. I think it was great that we did put together the action plan because meeting, some language. And from my review of it, they agreed to take out certain aspects. And my review of it is that they did.

MR. ROGERS: Yes. Yes, we did, yes.

MR. THAR: I think the language falls on, as you open it up, the inside beige page, the third paragraph reads, "Purchasing Department will require minority woman certification or proof that application has been submitted to the Department of Administration Minority/Women Business Enterprise Division to be considered in the MBE/WBE program." In the past, it was that they had to have that submitted to do any work, and we wanted them to be limited to -- they needed to have that certification considered for credit on the MBE/WBE program's list. Settlement Agreement Number 02-BC-1, regarding Blue Chip Casino. On or about September 15th, 2002, a scheduled EMT did not arrive for duty for eight a.m. casino opening. Blue Chip personnel became aware of this situation at approximately 8:10 a.m. when security manager was notified that an EMT was not responding to a call. A certified EMT did not arrive on the property until approximately 9:05 a.m. Blue Chip was out of a certified EMT for approximately one hour and five minutes while patrons were present. Pursuant to Indiana Gaming Regulations, a riverboat licensee shall have at least one employee who is certified as an EMT on the riverboat at all times patrons are present.

Commission staff and Blue Chip have agreed that a sanction be imposed due to this violation. Staff recommends that Blue Chip will agree to pay a fine in the amount of $2,500. A Settlement Agreement has been executed between Commission staff and the Blue Chip.

We recommend that you approve the terms of the settlement agreement to resolve this matter.

MR. VOWELS: All right. Any questions of Miss Brodnan? In front of us is this "Commission Action in Regarding, In Re: The Settlement Agreement of Boyd Gaming Corporation". It's our function here to

Any further 6 discussion? There was a second? I didn't hear what 7 the second was. 8 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I'll second it. 9 MR. VOWELS: Okay. All in favor say "aye". 10 (Ayes in unison.) 11 MR. VOWELS: Show that the agreement is approved. 12 And then, Mr. Thar, we'd move to Paul Alanis and 13 the settlement with them. 14 MR. THAR: Is Mr. Fearnow available? Has he 15 arrived? Mr. Randy Fearnow is the attorney for Mr. 16 Paul Alanis. He called just prior to the start of our 17 Executive Session and said he was stuck in some kind 18 of traffic, and I don't know exactly when he would be 19 here, but he was supposed to be here by eleven. And I 20 notice that on my watch, it's like eleven now. 21 you want to give him ten minutes, maybe take a break? 22 MR. VOWELS: Oh, I could use a break, and that 23 may be good for him, too. 24 MR. THAR: Okay.

MR. VOWELS: So, we will take, oh, a ten-minute

1 break, which means ten minutes after eleven, quarter 2 after eleven. 3 (Recess taken until 11:30) MR. VOWELS: All right. We'll go ahead and pull it back together now. We have the person we need, so if everyone will assume their positions. MR. THAR: We took a little extra time at the 8 break because we got another call from Mr. Fearnow and he was just a little bit away, and he and Mr. Tew 9 have, in fact, arrived. And I understand will not be 10 11 donating any money from their income tax refund to the 12 Department of Natural Resources, is that true? 13 MR. VOWELS: They found out that the Conservation 14 Officers have the widest jurisdiction in the State of 15 Indiana. I assume you had your fishing license up to 16 date, too? All right, we have everyone? 17 MR. THAR: We do. 18 MR. VOWELS: All right. We'll go ahead and call 19 the meeting back to order. The next matter on the 20 agenda are the disciplinary actions dealing with Paul 21 Alanis. And Mr. Fearnow is here now. 22 MR. FEARNOW: And Mr. Tew. 23 MR. VOWELS: And Mr. Tew. And if you will be certain that the reporter has your cards when you're 24 25 finished, too, so. . .

MR. THAR: The gentleman in the glasses is Mr. Randy Fearnow, and the gentleman at the table is Mr. Kipper Tew.

MR. FEARNOW: Ladies and gentlemen of the Commission, Mr. Chairman, Mr. Thar, Ms. Dean. First of all, I have to apologize for our late arrival here; about everything that could have gone wrong in us getting here today has, including, as was pointed out, the issuance of the ticket by a Conservation Officer in a pickup truck, and then unlawfully detaining us by the roadside for about 30 minutes (general laughter).

But we -- We collected ourselves and avoided a worse offense, and did finally manage to make it here. I greatly apologize, and am sorry to hold up the Commission in its duties today.

I'm Randy Fearnow with Krieg Devault, and I'm here with my partner Mr. Kip Tew; we are here on behalf of our client Paul Alanis to present to the Commission today an agreement that has been worked out with Mr. Thar and Miss Dean, and which I presume you have as part of your packet today. Let me just say at the outset that I greatly appreciate the efforts of both Mr. Thar and Miss Dean in working with us on this. The agreement that you have before you is the product of literally months of negotiations between us; and those negotiations were at many times, let's say, spirited but at all times highly professional, and I came away from the experience, and I know Kip has too, with great respect for Jack and Cindy and this Commission as well. So, we're pleased to be here finally to present this agreement and hopefully to put entirely to rest the matter down at Belterra.

I would be happy to summarize for you very briefly the document. It's very simple and straight forward. In paragraph three there's some language there that probably should be familiar to you because I believe it's essentially the same, if not entirely the same, as the factual statement which came before you in another matter.

The bottom line of the agreement is that Mr.

Alanis, who was not present at the Belterra Casino, in fact, was in California at the time of the events reported in June of 2001, but who was the Chief Executive Officer at the time of the occurrence.

Essentially, he is surrendering his license. He was -- has stepped down back in April, shortly after the Commission first became involved; so, he stepped down early on in the course of the investigation from his position as Chief Executive Officer.

Those really are the highlights of the agreement, rather than to go through it line by line. I know you've all had a chance to read it, and I'll be happy to try to answer any questions that any of you may have concerning the agreement or the discussions we've had with the Commission.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions, then, for Mr. Fearnow? Or Mr. Tew?

MR. THAR: I would think there's one other observation we'd probably want to make for the public here. And that is that the agreement/stipulation is in lieu of the filing of a disciplinary action, no disciplinary action has been commenced. And Mr. Alanis is surrendering his license. But the agreement does not call for any fine or anything else. I believe and agree with Mr. Fearnow's statements that this was negotiated aggressively, but in good faith, and I believe that the negotiations resulted in an agreement and a stipulation which probably accurately reflects the facts of the investigation from both sides. Would you have any disagreement with any of my statements?

MR. FEARNOW: I fully agree with what Mr.

Thar indicated, that the Commission was well represented, obviously, by Mr. Thar and Miss Dean in these negotiations. It's probably not exactly what either side would have wished for, certainly not from our side, but we're happy with it because we feel we were dealt with very fairly in the process, and professionally and ethically by the Commission staff, so we are very accepting of the agreement, and very, very anxious to put the matter to rest here today.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Jack, I have a question for you. One thing, and this wasn't -- I think that Mr. Alanis, it was probably more omission than direct admission, but one thing that Commissioner Darko, when he was still part of our commission, was concerned about is that we would be just passing our problems along to another state, possibly. This is a public document, am I correct? And if somebody -- If he were to seek a license somewhere else, this could be, if they asked, could be part of a public record, . . . or?

MR. THAR: I believe -- Well, it is a public record, number one. But, number two, I believe that the document itself recognizes that any state has the right to take a look and make their own determinations. They're certainly not bound by any acts that we took.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Right.

MR. THAR: By the same token, they're free under this to consider whatever they choose to consider in VOWELS: In fact, I assume you got to bill for that 30 minutes by the side of the road, did ya? Attorney to attorney, I hope so. 10 (General laughter.) 11 MR. VOWELS: All right. Then, in front of us, and it will be documented for signature, the 12 13 Commission action, In Re: The Settlement Agreement 14 Dealing With Paul R. Alanis, the complaint number 15 2002-OL-BT-2, is there a motion to approve or 16 disapprove the proposed terms of the settlement 17 agreement? 18 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I move that we approve the 19 settlement agreement 20 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? 21 MR. MILCAREK: I'll second that. 22 MR. VOWELS: Is there any further discussion? 23 MR. GETTLEFINGER: Yes, I'd like to make a 24 comment, please. I will vote not to approve this 25 agreement and stipulation. And I believe that I must do so to be consistent with my position on Belterra.

My complaint against the Belterra operation has been lack of appropriate supervision. And I believe Mr.

Alanis was one of the principal reasons there was no supervision; there was no appropriate supervision.

So, in my personal opinion, he was part of the problem. That continuing problem was lack of a board and management control, and I don't believe this agreement and stipulation goes to the solution of inattentive boards and inattentive out-of-state management.

MR. VOWELS: All right. Is there any further discussion? What this reminds of, and since the Gaming Commission takes up about one percent of my life, and 99 percent of my life is what I do day-to-day in my job, and often going in front of a judge with an agreement, whether it's at a criminal case, a plea agreement, or a lawsuit, we, of course, have to go in front of a judge and ask for the judge to accept that agreement; and, there are times when a judge hesitates and then we have to convince them of why. Generally, the reason is that the compromise is -- there was a middle ground that was reached, and in a criminal case, sometimes the prosecutor may or may not be able to pull the trigger of what they've alleged, and that's why the compromise is reached. And I see this agreement, and I've followed Mr. Thar's progress in this throughout the entire scenario, and I see it as the just compromise that the trigger that would be pulled would be to revoke his license and throw a wrench into any of the proceedings that might take place before another Gaming Commission in another jurisdiction. This throws the red flag up so that they see what's gone on, but yet we have not drawn the line in the sand to where they have to cross that line, or not cross that line, and decide whether what we did was right or wrong. So that this, what it does is, it does everything except cross that line and pull the trigger of revoking his license, or there wouldn't be an agreement today if that's -- was Mr. Thar's position, and so we would have the big war, the big fight. And we, as a commission, and backing the Executive Director, if he wanted this license revoked, I don't know that we would win or lose; I'm sure it would be long and protracted. And this was -- The situation in Belterra was the largest -- or the biggest deal that we've had to deal with as a commission, and that I can remember, and so, I am going to support this agreement. And I hope the others do, too, because I believe it is a just compromise, and you never know what the final result could have been if we moved forward with a more harsh result. And I think this covers everything that we need to cover in this regard. And I really doubt I will see Mr. Alanis in our jurisdiction again. He may not have acted intelligently or wisely under the circumstances that brought this issue before the Commission, but I don't think he's silly enough to come back here and open up that can of worms again.

Do any of the other commissioners have any thoughts or reservations?

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: No, I think that this is the best -- I think this is the best for the Commission, and for the State of Indiana, for us to move on. He's not going to hold a license here anymore. This is part of the public record, and I feel that that satisfies my requirements.

MR. VOWELS: Okay. And one of the reasons -- I mean, there are only five votes here today, and it requires four to go forward, or it's dead in the water. Commissioner Milcarek, do you have any thoughts?

MR. MILCAREK: Well, yes, Commissioner Vowels, I feel like Ann does; I think this does the -- serves our purpose we're trying to do, and maybe incompetence

And if he was incompetent, he goes someplace 3 else, certainly that will be proved out, and I don't think we need to punishment him anymore than what 4 5 we're doing. 6 MR. VOWELS: And, Commissioner Rose, you've kind 7 of come in on the tail end of this, but, do you have 8 any thoughts or reservations or questions or anything? 9 MS. ROSE: No, I don't. I reviewed the materials 10 and I have had discussion with Jack, and I think that, 11 in light of the issue, that it's a compromise --12 compromised agreement and settlement agreement that's 13 been negotiated by Jack, and I feel comfortable with it. 14 15 MR. Commissioner Gettelfinger finger voted not to accept it.

All right, is there any further issue related to that?

MR. THAR: Just to bring everyone up to date, if you will remember -- I'm sorry, Randy.

MR. FEARNOW: No, that's fine. If we're completed with that matter, I just want to thank the Commission for your time and effort in reviewing this matter, and apologize again for our tardiness, and urge everyone to drive carefully on the way home. Thank you.

MR. VOWELS: Thank you.

MR. THAR: If you will remember, there was a fine in the amount of 2.26 million dollars that was levied against Pinnacle, Belterra; that fine has been paid. There was a fine in the amount of $700,040 leveled against Mr. Hubbard, that fine has been paid. There was $10,000 in investigative expenses leveled against Mr. Hubbard; those expenses have been paid. There was part of the agreement that the Belterra Casino would close from six p.m. Sunday, October 6th, until 12:01 p.m., which is one minute after noon, on the following Wednesday; that notification has been sent out and those arrangements have been made. aware, they will be paying the employees what they would have made were they working during those days; they will also be paying their taxes they would have paid had they been open that day, based upon a formula that was contained in the agreement.

The escrow agreement for the 5 million dollars was to be escrowed pending completion of the 300-room hotel tower down there; is 90 percent completed, and will most likely be finished next week; and that will be reported on at the next meeting.

I believe, then, once that escrow agreement is funded, the immediate aspects of the Commission's actions with regard to the golf outing at Belterra will be concluded.

MR. VOWELS: I hope so. The situation, when we discussed the settlement with Mr. Hubbard and Pinnacle, I had emphasized that one of my main concerns were the employees and along with the fact that I wanted that to be a running operation, because they would be the people who would get hurt while everybody else flew off in their jets. And there was some discussion that eventually was agreed to about how the employees would be paid during those shutdown days. And I think I made it clear of what my position is, is that they don't come off any worse than if they had worked that day; we talked about tips and all of that. I would assume there's someone here from Pinnacle that could send that message back, that I really don't want that to be an issue. If it comes back up, ah, having dealt with Pinnacle over this period of time, I don't kid myself, that it's very possible that that could be an issue, that our patience wear thin on all of that, and I can't imagine that my patience would be anything but worse if that comes up again. So, just so that's clear. If there's a leaner on which way it should go, lean it in favor of the employees. Is that what perturbed me. So, that's the end of that.

Is there anything under "Other Business"?

MR. THAR: There is not, Mr. Chairman.

MR. VOWELS: The next matter on the agenda is then the next meeting. We have looked at our calendars and, because the statute requires live quarterly meetings, we've picked November 15th, which is a Friday, and that would be in Indianapolis; the times will be released later, and we have no idea of what will be on the agenda at that time, but we have to meet. But there will be something on the agenda.

The next matter before we adjourn, we will adjourn here in a moment and then in a little bit will pick up the public hearing agenda in consideration of the license renewal for Blue Chip Casino, LLC; and we've been through those kinds of things before, and if we denied their license renewal, there will be a lot of discussion in this room; and, if we grant the renewal, everybody flows around and is happy. My point of all that is, I want to address this now instead of later, because you're all paying attention to me now.

This is our last meeting with our Executive Director Jack Thar. And I haven't made any notes. was going to make up everything I say as I go along, so bear with me. Back in September of 1993, Ann Bochnowski and I and others were appointed to the Commission; that was nine years and 26 days ago -- Not that we're counting. But, shortly thereafter, Governor Bayh named Jack Thar as the Executive Director of the Gaming Commission. He had been the Interim U.S. Attorney for, at least, the Southern District of Indiana, where I'm from, Evansville. And I had never come into contact with Jack. I hadn't met him, but friends of mine, who are attorneys in Evansville, who practice against him, one guy in particular, had called me when it was released in the newspaper. And this particular attorney is very good at what he does; and that was the opposite of what, as far as, his job is the opposite of what Jack Thar's job was, to prosecute this guy's clients. And those of us who are in adversarial positions, time and time again, come to appreciate the attorney on the other side who is a straight-shooter and knows what they're talking about, and is very good at what they do. This friend of mine called me and he gave rave reviews of Jack. He said, I've gone up against him and he's as tough as they come, but he's a fair guy. And just about that time the federal judge appointed me to represent a criminal defendant in federal court, and he was involved in a big conspiracy and Jack had prosecuted one of the co-defendants and I had the transcript from that trial, and over the years during our times in these hearings, I hear that -- that very systematic cross examination questions that I read in that transcript from back in 1993 and 1994.

As a Commissioner, and the last four years as Chairman, I've always valued the fact that this guy sittin' next to me was here; I can't imagine that Governor Bayh could have made a better appointment. have come to rely on him and trust him. In this -- you know, this whole thing was made up out of whole cloth, and it's directly attributable to Jack Thar;

there were other people who had a hand in it, the former Chairman Alan Clineman.

When I became Chairman, the deal was I stay out of your way, and I trust you. And it could be very scary in this position, because when we started out, you know, the anti-gambling people would point out the history of the gambling community from way back when, when things were a bit suspect. And so our fear early on, and I'm concerned with keeping this clean, and because of his integrity and the fact that my fellow Commissioners held that standard too, I never had anything to worry about. And he would call me every week or two and update me on what was going on. And during that time, we've been together for so long, we both had wives and mothers when this thing started out, and we don't have that anymore.

He -- During -- Some of you may not have noticed over the years, he would get up and walk down to me and very politely tell me to leave that line of questioning alone, and I would do what he said. So, I came to rely on him greatly. During this period of time, he's become a very good friend of mine, and basically my older brother (general laughter). And -- And I will miss him greatly. I hope to keep in contact with him, and he swears that he will. So,

1 anyway, brother, I am qonna miss ya, and I wish I could say something more articulate. I thought about 2 writing notes down, but those things just seem to get 3 more stayed if you go from notes like that. 4 But, anyway, Glenn Lawrence will take your seat, 5 6 and I'm sure that he will be wonderful in that job, but it's just that we've been together so long that 7 8 it's going to be awfully strange without you. So, 9 thanks. 10 (Applause.) 11 MR. VOWELS: Anything further? A motion to 12 adjourn would be entertained. 13 MR. MILCAREK: So moved. 14 MR. VOWELS: Is there a second? 15 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Second. 16 MR. VOWELS: But before we do that, I'll turn to 17 you for your advice once more; when do we start back 18 up? 19 We can start as soon as the Commission 20 would like. The Boyd people have indicated that they 21 are ready to go within 30 seconds of being advised. 22 So, it's all a matter of, do you want to take five 23 minutes to stretch, or are you ready to rock and roll? MR. MILCAREK: Let's roll. 24 25 MR. VOWELS: Do you want to keep going? Okay.

The purpose of speaking with you today is to again voice concern and urge action by you, the Commission, over some business practices employed by Boyd Gaming in relation to Kevin Floyd -- I'm sorry, Kevin Flynn, and Fieldstreet Consulting. The concern raises over a consulting agreement executed between Boyd Gaming, Kevin Flynn and Fieldstreet Consulting in I think it's important to remember the chronology of that agreement. On November 8th, 1999, the IGC approved 100 percent ownership in Blue Chip Casino by Boyd. After that approval, the IGC was made aware through self-reporting that Boyd had executed a consulting agreement with Fieldstreet on June 27th, Thus, a serious omission was committed Boyd by not disclosing the consulting agreement during the application process. Ultimately, Indiana Gaming Commission approved a disciplinary settlement of one million dollars. That was done on September 18th 2000.

Subsequent to this action, the State of Illinois, and its gaming board reported its findings of an investigation into the practices of Donald and Kevin Flynn, as it related to Emerald Casino's application for renewal of their license, of which the Flynns had an interest.

As part of the handouts that I've provided earlier to you, I asked that you give special attention to the minutes of the regular meeting of the Illinois Gaming Board for the January 30th, 2001, meeting. I'd like to quote in part the report given by Mr. Accosta (phonetic) of the Gaming Board, where on page 11 and 12 of the minutes, he stated in part were, "That Emerald filed its application with the Board on September 24th, 1999, and that over the past 16 months, staff engaged in a wide-ranging and thorough investigation of the licensee." Mr. Accosta stated the staff investigation had included numerous interviews, including some under oath, and the review and analysis of countless documents. He went on to state that, "Casino gambling operations in this country have long been targeted by organized crime, and that the Board must be vigilant in ensuring that organized crime does not infiltrate or gain a foothold in the Illinois gaming industry." Mr. Accosta stated, "In this case, unfortunately, there is evidence that organized crime has attempted to gain such a foothold." He went on to state that, "The staff has evidence that two of the proposed shareholders of Emerald Casino has close associations with Chicago organized crime figures." He ultimately recommended the Board deny any renewal of Emerald Casino's riverboat gaming license.

The remarks of the Illinois Gaming Board are compelling. In fact, it led to a preliminary finding that Donald and Kevin Flynn be denied a renewal of its owner's license. Then it was reported in the Chicago Tribune, the Chicago Sun Times, Grand Rapids Press, and the South Bend Tribune exactly what that consulting agreement consisted of. It consisted of an agreement between Boyd and Fieldstreet whereby $500,000 per year for five years and a 5 million dollar contingent fee would be paid to Kevin Flynn if a competing interest, a competing casino, did not open in Michigan.

Now, should the Indiana Gaming Commission take at face value the Illinois Gaming Board's finding?

Absolutely not. Rather, we would respectfully request that this Commission conduct its own investigation; it's own review. We'd ask the Commission to review the questions addressed to you in the May 7th, 2002, correspondence by Mr. Michael Zimmerman, including, but not limited to: Does the IGC consider this to be acceptable conduct of a holder of an Indiana gaming license? Is it appropriate to allow a consulting agreement that pays 7.5 million dollars to a person in another jurisdiction accusing -- accused of having mob ties? Why shouldn't there be a review? Is it because there is another group in another state that is being targeted by folks involved in this consulting agreement?

In my view, we don't get there. We don't get to that question because the very words of IC 43-1-2, the clear intent of the Indiana General Assembly when it passed public law 277 in 1993, during the Special Session, gives us guidance as to why a review should take place. In part, the legislative intent of that law reads, "That the public's confidence and trust will be maintained only through comprehensive law enforcement, supervision, and the strict regulation of facilities, persons, associations, and gambling operations under this article."

As the moral compass for gaming in the State of Indiana, we would respectfully request that you revisit the ultimate question; that being, Would we, as a Commission, allow during the application process by Boyd a consulting agreement involving the aforementioned parties, given the facts as we now know them? We ask for your comprehensive investigation of this issue and at a minimum void the consulting agreement between Boyd and Kevin Flynn. On behalf of my client, the Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians, I thank you for your consideration. Thank you.

MR. VOWELS: Thank you, Mr. Champion. Mr. Champion -- Has anybody signed up beyond. . .?

MR. LARSON: Good morning, Chairman Vowels,

Members of the Commission, Executive Director Thar,

in-coming Executive Director Lawrence, and Commission

Staff, I'm Brian Larson, Senior Vice President, and General Counsel of Boyd Gaming Corporation.

As some of you may know, Bill Boyd, our Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, fully intended to be here today, but as we will discuss later, was not able to join us. With me today from our corporate office are Don Snyder, the President of Boyd Gaming Corporation; Keith Smith, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Boyd Gaming, next to Don; and, Rob Stillwell, Vice President of Corporate Communications. From Blue Chip, we have Mike Driggs, Executive Vice President and General Manager; and, Bryce Warren, Vice President and Assistant General Manager. Bryce? We also have with us today Judy

Lynn Gottschalk, Executive Director of the Indiana Council on Problem Gambling; Joseph Sookradge owner of Island's Fish and Seafood Company in Michigan City; and Jo Ann Finney, owner of the Framing Station in Michigan City, will each be making presentations regarding their involvement with Blue Chip Casino.

Our presentation will consist of a Blue Chip operations review by Mike Driggs, a discussion of our commitment to the communities in which we operate by Don Snyder; Keith Smith will provide an update on the activities and performance of Boyd Gaming Corporation. Then we will show a brief video presentation and have short presentations by each of our speakers. Followed by a question-and-answer period.

Now I'd like to ask Mike Driggs, Executive Vice President and General Manager of Blue Chip, to begin our presentation. Due to Mike's recent knee injury, he will be speaking from the table over here. Mike.

MR. DRIGGS: Thank you. Chairman Vowels, Members of the Commission, Executive Director Thar, in-coming Director -- Executive Director Lawrence and the Commission staff, as you know, Blue Chip Casino opened in August of 1997, and was acquired by Boyd Gaming after the approval of the Indiana Gaming Commission on November 8th of 1999. It officially became a member of the Boyd family after the successful transition on November the 10th, and has been a very important part of the Boyd family ever since.

Included in the purchase agreement of two hundred and seventy -- strike that -- 273.6 million, was a hundred eighty-eight room hotel, which opened in February of 2000. The hotel amenities include an indoor swimming spool, exercise facility, gift shop, suites, has been a great addition to the property.

Blue Chip sits on approximately 37 acres. Of which five have been purchased since our acquisition. It will be a very important part of our growth in our strategic planning for the future and for us to remain competitive. Part of Blue Chip's plans have been to reinvest capital into the property. We've had capital expenditures of over 20 million since our acquisition, from many projects; including, increasing our square footage from 37,000 square feet to over 42,000 square feet; increasing the number of gaming positions from 1779 to 2047 with their current expansion.

We've purchased additional gaming equipment to remain competitive. We've purchased additional surveillance equipment to ensure that we have better and improved surveillance coverage. We've remodeled our gourmet room, our snack bars, and added a second snack bar on the vessel, to make sure that we better serve our customers.

And by beginning open boarding on August 1st of this year, we've been able to be more competitive with the casinos in Illinois, and has been very well received by our customers, who very much appreciate the ability to be able to come and go as they wish.

We are committed to using Indiana vendors when at all possible, and have purchased nearly 35 million dollars in goods and services since November of 1999.

A large part of our success is our diverse and dedicated and friendly staff of now over 1200 employees since the completion of our expansion. The employees at Blue Chip have true Midwestern hospitality; they care about our guests; they care about each other; and they care about the community.

Over the past two years, Blue Chip employees have pledged nearly a hundred thousand dollars to the United Way to help people that are less fortunate than them.

Our operations, as I said, have now grown to 42,500 square feet of gaming, with over 1500 slot machines, 68 table games, including our new 12-game poker room. Our 188-room hotel has served nearly 290,000 guests since opening in February of 2000, with 147,000 room nights. Sixty percent of the people who stay in our hotel are from out of state, which has helped grow the tourism in northwest Indiana, and as of last month we achieved our highest occupancy of over 99 percent.

At the end of the year, again, in our commitment to reinvest capital, we also will be remodeling the buffet to, again, make sure that we have a competitive product and are very successful.

The completion of the third deck has raised the bar of our property. If you've had an opportunity to see it, the great relaxed atmosphere, the open feeling has been -- has met well with our customers; they've praised the room, enjoy the atmosphere and the employees enjoy it also.

As stated above, reinvestment of capital is our part of strategic plan to ensure Blue Chip remains competitive and give an outstanding entertainment

With our diverse workforce of now over 1200 employees, we have 64 percent female, 30 percent male and 20 percent minority. Which exceeds the commitment of employing a permanent workforce which is demographically representative of the LaPorte County area, which includes 12.6 percent minority and 48.9 percent women.

As you will see by the next two slides, one of our large successes has been our accomplishments in exceeding the MBE goals since acquiring the property. Prior to November of -- Prior to our acquisition, the goals for minority and women purchases were not met. In our first full quarter of operation, and that was in 2000, we have met our goals; and every quarter since then we have exceeded our goals. If you look back into '99, from the six or seven weeks that we operated the property, we nearly met the goals for the last quarter.

It was done with a very simple plan. After meeting with managers and directors that were told, it was told why these goals were impossible and couldn't be attained; we met with the Purchasing Department and were told how they could be met. That they just needed support from the Executive Office in our

We brought our directors and managers into the meeting with our Purchasing Department, the goal is simple, you will meet these goals, and we have.

It took dedication and hard work from our

Purchasing Department and our staff, understanding that there is a little extra cost with that commitment that that is a commitment that was made and a commitment that we have been very proud of meeting.

Another big part of our -- And we can go over the -- the statistics again. Another large part of our success is our employee training. One of the things we're very proud of, and we do try to be as compliant as possible. When acquiring the property, we started training programs, not only for guest services, but to have employees understand rules, regulations, internal controls, but not only just what they are, but why they are. We've developed manuals for nearly every area of the property to ensure that employees have the tool to help them comply with the regulations. As we are 1200 employees, employees make mistakes. But we do everything we can to reduce the amount of mistakes to ensure compliance, to train employees, to be and understand that we are a regulated agency and we do respect those regulations and do try to follow them.

A big part of that training is our internal audit Through the leadership of our corporate offices, that staff has been trained in internal audits to help train all of our gaming areas to better comply with the regulations and the internal controls that we have set forward. We've also had programs for supervisory training and management training to help employees, supervisors have an opportunity to grow within the company. It has been -- A big success of our company has been the amount of employees that have been promoted from within, and we hope to keep that condition going here at Blue Chip, so we think that's very important for the employees to know they have opportunities. They have opportunities for growth; and they will have a great company to work for in the future.

With that, that concludes my part of the presentation. I'd like to introduce the President of the Company, Don Snyder, who will talk to you about our company commitment. Thank you.

MR. SNYDER: Thank you, Mike. Mr. Chairman,

Members of the Commission, Mr. Thar and staff, it

Corporation, and also Mr. Bill Boyd, as was alluded to earlier, I am standing in for Bill. Bill puts a tremendous amount of emphasis on appearing before the commission in all the states where we do business, and there are very few things that would keep him from being here. But today, this afternoon in just a couple of hours, the new William S. Boyd School of Law is being dedicated in Las Vegas, and that's something that he had played a tremendous role in, both in terms of his time, his leadership, and also his money, to start a law school. And Nevada was one of only two states that didn't have a law school before the William S. Boyd School of Law opened. It actually had his first class four years ago, started his first class four years ago, graduated his first class last year and the dedication today is of the new facility on campus at U.N.L.V. He is very proud of that, and that is about the only thing that I can think of that would keep him from being here today.

It's -- Perhaps, those comments are a perfect segue into what I'm going to talk about on behalf of Mr. Boyd. You see in front of you a slide that says, "Boyd Style". There is a basic culture that has evolved over the past 27 years that this company has been in existence and it's a culture as a style of doing business that started with Bill's dad, Sam, continued through Bill, and it is really the very foundation in which the company is built, and which the company operates; how we talk with our people. And if you go to any property throughout the Boyd Gaming network, you will see the Boyd style memorialized not just in writing, but memorialized in terms of style of how we do business. And it says here we operate with only the highest degree of integrity, and I think some of you know, perhaps, my background wasn't forever in the gaming business. was a banker for 22 years. I set on the other side of the desk from Bill Boyd and the management team as their banker for a number of years, and I will tell you there is nobody that has a higher level of integrity in our industry than Bill Boyd, and that really permeates the company and how we do business.

We rely on the confidence and friendliness of each person in the organization. We are committed to the total satisfaction of every Boyd Gaming customer; and we provide fast, friendly service while creating a fun experience in a fresh and clean environment.

These are principles that are clearly woven into the fabric of our organization.

The reason Bill is not here today says volumes about our approach to our communities and our commitment to those communities in which we do business. We have a video, a little bit later that will touch on some of those, but this slide is meant to summarize, just briefly, a very small part of what we do, and how we do it terms of our commitment to our communities; and it is really something that starts very much at the top, with the attitudes that Bill and his family have -- have applied to our company from the very beginning, it affects all of us from a management point of view and it really permeates throughout our entire employee base where we have people that contribute both their time and their money to making the communities a better place for us to do business.

Now, just specifically here in terms of one program that affects Michigan City, the coin -- Coins For Cans effort resulted in over eight tons of food items being donated to the Salvation Army here in Michigan City. It is a small example of what we do and what we take great pride in. Our involvement throughout those communities where we do business with United Way is something that we're very proud of, and over the last two years, nearly a million dollars of employee contributions have been made to United Way, which I think speaks well for how we work with our communities through our employees.

We also know that we have a responsibility to ensure that our product remains entertainment for our guests. We know that some people, unfortunately -it's a very small portion of our guests -- don't manage our product as well as they should. And as such, we are proud of the leadership that we have taken and have shown within our industry on the subject of responsible gaming. We are a founding member of the National Center For Responsible Gaming; we continue to be very actively involved in that effort. Bill, Bill Boyd personally is President of that organization, and it is something that we take great pride in and spent a tremendous amount of time We assisted in the formation of the Indiana with. Council on Problem Gambling, and in similar organizations in other states, all over the states where we do business around the country.

We have mandatory employee training for all Boyd Gaming employees on recognizing symptoms, signals for people that do have challenges in this area. And we have recently, and we're proud to say it, have been recognized by the American Gaming Association for our leadership and our efforts in responsible gaming.

So, thank you very much, on behalf of Bill Boyd and the rest of the Boyd team, we really do appreciate the opportunity to be here with you today. And probably most importantly, we appreciate the opportunity to be a part of the business community here in Indiana and Michigan City and LaPorte County. And with that, I'm pleased to turn over the podium to Keith Smith, who is our Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Keith.

MR. SMITH: Thank you, Don. Good afternoon, Mr. Chairman, Members of the Commission, Executive Director Thar; I'd like to take just a few minutes to provide you with an update on Boyd Gaming and some recent developments here at Blue Chip.

Boyd Gaming's a well diversified company. We operate 12 properties in eight distinct markets in five different states. We operate here in Indiana, in Illinois, Mississippi, we have two operations in Louisiana, and seven operations in Nevada.

This diversification strategy, which we've worked on over a decade now, has been very successful for us, in that we do not rely on any one property or any one market or any one state for our profitability. Go back -- We have a strong and growing earning stream.

For the 12 months ended June 30th, our cash flow was up 26 percent to almost 277 million dollars. Our cash flow is stable and predictable. Over 60 percent of our total revenues, 80 percent of our gaming revenues, come from slot machines. This is the most consistently profitable and stable segment of the gaming business. We also have substantial free cash flow, with over 277 million in total cash flow, once again for the year end of June 30th, after we pay our interest and our taxes, we have a significant amount of money to reinvest in our properties, and to pay down our debt.

With respect to deleveraging, we have had, as one of our core strategies, over the last several years to reduce our overall debt loads, and we have. Last, but certainly not least, is our Borgata project in Atlantic City. Probably the most exciting project in our industry today. Construction phase is moving forward, and we're beginning to focus on employing 48 -- or, hiring and employing 4800 employees we will need to staff this facility.

We're on time and on budget for this project, which has been our mantra from the beginning. And we're looking for a summer of '03 opening.

With respect to recent results: We have had a very strong first six months with the company and a very, very strong second quarter. For the quarter ended June 30th of this year, all eight of our operating units exceeded their prior cash flows and the prior year operating margins; something we're very proud of. Our three largest units had either record or near-record cash flows. Our cash flow for the quarter was up 24 percent. And our earnings per share more than doubled for the second quarter.

We have refinanced all of our long-term debt; extended our maturities out to 2007 and beyond.

And we have reduced our debt level significantly; in the second quarter alone, we have reduced our debt 40 million dollars.

Turning to Blue Chip, this property here today, about the beginning of this month, around September 1st, we opened a 3 million dollar expansion that Mike Driggs talked about; that expansion included completing the third deck, essentially. It was approximately 5500 square feet. We opened a 12-table poker room; added 9 table games and created a high-limit room for our customers. If you haven't had a chance to see it, it's a beautiful room. As Mike said, our players rave about it. We're reviewing additions to our entertainment or entertainment offerings and seeing what else we can do there.

Lastly, we're reviewing the Master Plan for the property. We are blessed here with a lot of acreage and determining exactly what to do with that, to expand this property is a challenge, but we're in the middle of that right now.

We have a short video to show, which highlights the company and describes some of our community involvement. But before I do that, I'd like to re-introduce Judy Campbell. The reason I want to re-introduce Judy Campbell is, Judy will be our new General Manager here at the Blue Chip effective January 1st. Mike Driggs, some of you may know or may not know, is retiring at the end this year. Mike has been with us for some 20 years in the company. Has been with Blue Chip since the beginning; he's been a very important part of our company, and very important part of our success here. We are going to miss Mike. We wish him well in his retirement.

Once again, Judy is currently our General Manager at our Paradise property in East Peoria; comes very well qualified, and we are looking forward to having her here at Blue Chip. So, with that, we'll play a video

Honorable Sheila Brillson, Mayor of the City of Michigan City, who we have worked closely with since we have acquired Blue Chip almost three years ago.
Mayor.

MAYOR BRILLSON: Good afternoon, Commission.

Good afternoon, Chairman, Honorable Commissioners.

Before I begin, I must say something about Jack Thar.

With all due respect to Boyd Gaming, to Blue Chip and the employees and those of you who have waited, Jack, you have been an absolute example to the rest of us in the State of Indiana in public service. When I came on in 1996 as a rookie Mayor, you answered every call; gave me information, guided this city through the process; and certainly have served your state and those of us who are citizens of the State of Indiana with absolute integrity and ethics, and I know that I will miss you, and I think that the rest of the state would join me in those words. So, I wanted to mention that before I started.

MR. THAR: Thank you very much.

MAYOR BRILLSON: I come to you today, accompanied by Chief Gene Simmons of the Michigan City Police Department. I will keep my remarks short, but I know that you are often bogged down as a commission in the little details of gaming. I want to tell you about some of the great results of Boyd's presence in our community. Boyd Gaming has been an excellent corporate citizen. And, truthfully, we couldn't have chosen a better partner for our gaming organization in Michigan City. All development agreement items have been completed, to include the donation of the beautiful Smith Brothers property, which has developed into Millennium Plaza on our riverfront. I ask you to stop on your way out of the community to look at some of the improvements that have happened here because of Boyd Gaming's presence. They have accomplished the improvements to the marina and Sprague Marina; the 8th Street improvements along our corridor entering the casino, from lights to curbs and gutters have been completed; and, by end of the winter, we will have the acquisition and demolition of Harborside Homes, which was a HUD project; very complicated. We've worked on that for several years. That demolition has been -that contract has been granted for demolition, and we are hoping to begin 120-day clock shortly, which will be a great improvement to this community.

The Michigan City Enrichment Corporation, which received $750,000 annually, that is set-aside money managed by a citizen board, who gives grants throughout the community, throughout LaPorte County, for youth programs, social service programs and educational initiatives.

That money, especially in these economic times, where everyone's tightening their belts and their donations has really helped our county provide the social services that we need and the educational programs for our young people.

In addition, money is set aside annually to support economic development in our county, to continue community growth in manufacturing and industrial investment.

Some of the solid things our community can attest to, we have tried to invest our gaming windfall, our capital -- our new capital in things that this community could not afford to do. We completed the construction of four new fire stations; three of them were paid for by cash, without any bond debt; we invested 4.5 million dollars into a fire protection plan that will serve this community for the next 30 years. We've done numerous park improvements and playground equipment. We have installed 10.1 miles of new water mains and constructed a one million dollar water storage tank.

We have built 13.78 miles of sanitary sewer lines, with projects all around the community; the east side, the west side. Storm sewers have been built incorporating the whole project approach, where not only do we replace the storm sewers, but we replace everything else that goes with that infrastructure; new water service; replacing streets, curbs and gutters; making our streets and curbs handicap accessible; improving our pedestrian and parking areas. If you go around this community, if you look at Vail Street, the Coolspring/Wabash corridor and the Harrison Street Project, you can see examples of that. And, currently, the Ohio Street project is almost completed; we're still working in the Garfield and Barker area, but you can see a tremendous esthetic improvement to the community and to the neighborhoods.

Previous to the riverboat, we, like all communities around the State of Indiana, would have had to use revenue and general obligation bonds to fund any of these infrastructure projects; the project cost would then be passed on to the rate payer, causing a rise in taxes or user's fees. Needless to say, frankly, since this is very politically unpopular, people in positions of authority don't like to do that very often because to raise taxes are politically unacceptable, so very few projects are ever completed, and in a timely manner.

People in this city who have waited since the '40s for sewer and water, basic city services, are now enjoying these services; and we are almost completed with our goal of bringing sewer and water to every Michigan City property.

In addition, riverboat dollars have been used to improve our city services with purchase of new police and fire equipment, as well as service equipment for departments, such as the Street Department and the Park Department.

No one likes to talk about cemeteries, but we're building a new mausoleum in our Swan Lake Cemetery to meet our community's future needs.

We have developed a Central Maintenance and Central Service Department with the objective of reducing our operating costs for the future. Other improvements, which are not inclusive, I might add, but just to give you an idea and flavor for how we've tried to use our money to the benefit of all of the community and LaPorte County, Franklin Street reconstruction, if you came in that way, you will know that we are re-doing our main street, which was built in the '30s and '40s; the first major infrastructure improvement on that corridor, including two million dollars spent for new storm and sanitary sewers, as well as curb and gutter and other aesthetic improvements.

Some of the non-capital items that we have used our revenue for from the Casino, are a fire academy training for our new hires; insurance and support for the Safe Harbor Program, which is an in-school/after-school care program, which provides tutoring and social skill building for our young people; we have now a aggressive building demolition program and a Neighborhoods Alive initiative, which supports neighborhood improvement and our neighborhood associations. We've installed a city Web site, which improves our communication and service delivery to our citizens; we've provided some tax relief, both indirect, which I mentioned before, and direct tax relief. And our city, I think, is very aggressive in our technology improvements because of the riverboat dollars.

All in all, what I tried to do today is show you some of the solid things that you can see in this community because of Boyd Gaming's presence here.

Again, they are a solid employer; their employees are happy to come to work; their employees are also involved in the community, and I know that's part of their corporate culture, but as Mayor of Michigan City -- out-going Mayor of Michigan City -- I am very proud to have Boyd Gaming as our community partner.

Thank you.

MR. LARSON: Thank you, Mayor. Our next speaker will be Lynn Gottschalk, Executive Director of the Indiana Council on Problem Gambling.

MS. GOTTSCHALK: Thank you to the Commission for this opportunity to speak. My name is Lynn Gottschalk. I am the new Executive Director of the new Indiana Council on Problem Gambling, and it is my pleasure to be here today to commend Boyd Gaming and the Blue Chip Casino for their interest and involvement in the advocacy of compulsive gambling awareness and the treatment of problem gambling in the State of Indiana in three areas. Firstly, the Blue Chip Casino goes significantly beyond the requirements for advertising the availability of assistance through Indiana's problem gambling helpline.

Boyd's, "Don't Let The Game Get Out of Hand" brochures are available at many locations, at the Blue Chip property, including every cashier cage. In addition, the problem gambling helpline number is posted prominently on all cash and ATM machines.

This number also appears on all Blue Chip billboards, and at a large poster at the casino exit.

I find the availability of the problem gambling helpline number here at Blue Chip to be commendable

Secondly, Boyd Gaming should be complimented for their comprehensive and consistent training of all employees in the subject of problem gambling awareness.

Thirdly, I would like to take this opportunity to thank Boyd Gaming and the Blue Chip Casino for their investment and participation in the Indiana Council On Problem Gambling. Boyd Gaming's management has been generous with their financial support and with their time.

For example, in 2001, Boyd Gaming made a considerable investment as founding member of the new Indiana Council On Problem Gambling. This year, Boyd has contributed the largest sustaining gift to date towards the council's work for the prevention, awareness, education and treatment of problem gambling in the State of Indiana. Most importantly to me, Tom McPhearson, a Boyd Vice President, who sits on the board of the Indiana Council On Problem Gambling, has been instrumental in our reorganization and program operations. Tom continues to provide regular advice and assistance, as we endeavor to advocate help and hope for people who struggle with problem gambling in our state.

Thank you.

MR. LARSON: Thank you. Next we'll hear from Joseph Sookradge, owner of Island's Fish and Seafood Company in Michigan City. We have been doing business with Joseph's company for over two years.

MR. SOOKRADGE: Hi. My name is Joseph Sookradge. I started the business about three years ago. And when Blue Chip was here, I came out and I asked, What do I need to do to sell to them? And they told me I needed to be minority certified, and I went through that process, and within three years, as he said, that I've been doing servicing them with seafood. They've been a -- very happy with what I've been servicing them, and I've been working with them closely with new items. That's about it. I can think of. This is something that is new to me so. . . my goal is selling seafood, and that -- that's this is not something I. . .

(General laughter.)

MR. SOOKRADGE: So, bear with me. If you guys have any questions, feel free to ask.

MR. VOWELS: Any questions? Very good.

MR. LARSON: Thanks very much. Thank you, Joe.

Our last speaker will be Jo Ann Finney, owner of the Framing Shop in Michigan City. And, again, we've been doing business with Jo Ann since our acquisition of Blue Chip in 1999.

MS. FINNEY: Thank you. I, like Joseph, this is new to me, also, so just kind of bear with me. I am Jo Ann Finney. I am the owner, sole owner, of the Framing Station here in Michigan City, and I've been the owner for 17 years, and I do custom framing, also a gallery. I have worked with the Blue Chip since the very beginning. They approached me and asked me for some help in purchasing art work that you've seen around in their Casino area; the old fashioned photographs and such; so, it started with them then. And since then, uhm, I have done pretty much all the work, except for the hotel; and they've been a -they've been very good to me as far as working with Their employees, we've become friends. I don't ever have to even send them a bill. They use what I give them and they always are very prompt in paying, which is -- again, is very good.

What was nice about them when -- in the beginning, they came -- they said to me, You need to be certified. And I said, What is certified? Other than for me as certified picture framer and, Oh, it's not a problem. We'll help you. This was good. You know. A hundred pages after, and going to my attorney and everyone else and my bookkeeper, we got it done; but they definitely helped me with that. So, since then, I'm actually up for a recertification, another hundred pages. So, and I -- I thank them for that.

I would have to say and again that they have been good to me. I don't want to say the other riverboats haven't, but I have come to all those trade fairs and done all these things, and I listened to what you asked those questions about the women business, and they have not approached me. I have been there. I have given them all their information that they need. And let them know -- I let them know immediately that I was certified. And I do know many a framer here in northwest Indiana. Actually, am from southern Indiana; have family in southern Indiana, and approached them there and said, Look, coming to southern Indiana is coming home, so I don't have a problem going to you and helping you. But I have not been approached by them. So, I wanted you to know that, ah, I've searched them out, but they have not responded to me, so. . .

MR. VOWELS: What part of southern Indiana?

MS. FINNEY: I'm from Jeffersonville, which Caesar's is in their back door. And been there. And so, uhm, you know, picture framing is all over. And I understand the hotel part of it. But, you know, like their corridors here and everything, we've done it all. And they call me up and they say, You know, we have certificates, or we have some prints, or do you have access to prints? And they drop 'em off. And we've become a relationship to where, you know, I know what they want, and I give them what they want, and it's -- it's been a very good business with Blue Chip.
So, thank you. Thank you. Yes.

MR. THAR: Miss Finney, you said you were going back through the recertification process. If you could do one thing to make the whole certification process simpler, what would that be?

MS. FINNEY: Well, as I was reading all of those, you have to go all the way back into everything that says, you know, the required birth certificates and all -- all of that is already on file. I haven't changed. Maybe some of the business parts, you know, the notes, it seems like, to me, when you're being recertified, you have already explored all of my business, ah, that I am who I am. To me, it should be a very short, almost a one-page form to just say, yes, nothing has changed. I mean, even I had gone out and got another bank note, that would not have changed, but yet you want for some reason they need me to go to the -- if that had happened, go to the bank and show that I'm the person getting that loan again or however. It just seems like to me it's -- I mean, I have -- I bet there's 15 pages to that that I have to go out and find all of the bookwork again, and, you know, and the employees, what they make, and all of that. Just seems like there should be just a short, one-page to show, and if there is change, then give you that change.

MR. THAR: Thank you.

MS. FINNEY: Okay. Thank you.

MR. GETTLEFINGER: Mr. Thar, if I may comment on that question. Our accounting practices differ in southern Indiana and Kentucky, and one of the complaints we hear, is that businesses become certified in one state, and then they have to complete the entire process again to be certified in another state, and a lot of times folks who get certified in one state just give up and don't -- do not attempt to be certified in another because of the large paperwork required, so, I think there may be some efficiencies that can be achieved. That's Kentucky's fault.

MR. THAR: I think that, Glenn, correct me if I'm wrong, but I think Indiana does have a reciprocity basis with the contiguous states around us.

MR. LAWRENCE: Most states except Kentucky.

Kentucky, I believe, has decertified their program such that they -- we have to deal directly. We are getting back in good association with 'em, especially with the bridges now, so we are working closely with them on a joint certification process.

MR. VOWELS: Does the certification process come under the Department of Administration, or what does that come under?

MR. LAWRENCE: The Department of Administration, we are now the sole point of the certification for minority women and WBE certification with the Department of Transportation, the City, the Airport the State, through a joint MOU.

MR. VOWELS: Okay.

MR. LAWRENCE: With no increase in staff.

MR. THAR: I was going to say, the real issue, aside from the length of the form that some people find it difficult to fill out, is the severity of under staffing due to a lot of different issues in the

MR. LARSON: I'd also like to thank Jo Ann. We have appreciated our relationship with her for the last three years. I hope it goes along for many more years to come.

Before we get into our question and answer period, I would also like to thank Jack Thar for his contributions to gaming in Indiana. And I echo the comments that have been made before me. Jack has been tough, sometimes painfully tough, but he's always been fair, and we'd like to thank you, Jack, and good luck in your future endeavors.

MR. THAR: Thank you.

MR. LARSON: With that, we are available for questions.

MR. VOWELS: We need to hear from one more person, and then we'll come to you. You've had the people that wished us to consider something in opposition to the way you operate. You who have presented why we should consider how you operate, and we need to hear from our own objective analyst, Mr. Drew Klacik, please.

MR. KLACIK: Thank you, and good afternoon. Mr. President, Commissioners, Executive Directors, current and future, and Gaming Commission staff, this is not new to me; most of you may realize that. In fact, the Center For Urban Policy and the Environment has been performing an analysis for the Gaming Commission since the Gaming Commission was originally created on these original licensing applications; we've also staffed the Governor's Gambling Impact Study Commission.

Having said that, I don't want to imply that I'm going to do any better job than any of the previous speakers. In fact, traditionally, I believe this is the point where the Executive Director Than asks me to slow down. So, I'm going to try to remember that this time, Jack. And, Glenn, you may want to remember in the future that at this point you say, "Slow down, Drew, the stenographer cannot keep up."

Our analysis in this case is a five -- for every boat we perform the five-year license reapplication analysis. In that analysis we look at four things; compliance, which consists of project development, employment and negotiated incentives; workforce development, which principally looks at employment and training issues; the economic impacts, including tourism, and the impact of the spending of the local taxes and negotiated incentives by Michigan City; and the physical impact upon the schools and the civil city.

Start with compliance. In terms of project development, Blue Chip has, as of April 30th of the year 2002, spent a hundred fifty-two point eight million, which is 65.8 million more which was required in the original agreement. About 99.2 million of that has been spent within the State of Indiana.

In terms of negotiated incentives through December 31st, 2001, the Blue Chip has paid over 15.2

million dollars in negotiated incentives. They've met all promises and, in fact, there was an on-going negotiated incentives, which has recently been increased, and will continue to pay incentive payments to the City of Michigan City for -- for -- I would assume for the time you operate. See, I can do this very badly. Uhm, okay.

In terms of employment, the five-year employment average for Michigan City -- for the Blue Chip has been 1,153 employees; in April of 2002, there were 1,149 employees. Since opening, Blue Chip has paid nearly 150 million dollars in wages, nearly 28 -- nearly 38 million of that was paid if 2001. As of April 2002, 61 percent of their employees were LaPorte County residents. This is the one goal we found that they missed. The original goal was 90 percent hiring of LaPorte County residents. We looked at workforce impacts too. To do this, we did a survey of Blue Chip employees. We got 293 responses of out 153 employees, about a 25 percent response rate. What we learned was that 31 percent of the employees who responded were unemployed prior to beginning their jobs at the Blue Chip. Forty-five percent of those who began working at Blue Chip were motivated either by -- and were previously employed, were motivated either by more money or improved work benefits.

The average length of employee for the -- the average length of employment for those who responded was two years and ten months.

About 80 percent of those who responded have received a raise since beginning work at the Blue Chip. The average annual increase in wages for employees who have reported a raise was around 2000 dollars a year.

Thirty-three percent -- And I found this really interesting -- 33 percent of all those who responded to this survey reported moving from a rental position to homeownership since they began working at Blue Chip.

We also looked at training. We found 71 percent of all employees reported receiving job-related training from the Blue Chip. When we asked for general skill building training that might be transferable to other employment, only 11 percent received -- reported receiving that type of training from Blue Chip. Fifteen percent reported paying for that type of training on their own.

We look at economic impacts. Specifically of tourism and the spending of local taxes and negotiated incentives. To investigate tourism, we did a four-day survey, where we talked to 234 patrons at Blue Chip; what we found is that they're clearly successful in attracting new visitors to Michigan City. Nearly 89 percent of those who we spoke to said the riverboat was the principal reason for coming to Michigan City. Runner-up was the outlet mall. About 49 percent of those that we interviewed said they were outside --- from outside the State of Indiana

What we found is, they're less successful, as are most boats, in generating additional business opportunities for the surrounding Michigan City area. Only 18 percent of those visitors said they would spend eight or more hours in Michigan City, and most of them said that if they did anything else, it was likely to visit either the dunes or the outlet mall.

We've looked at the economic impacts of local taxes and negotiated incentives, which I think is very

|   |

important, and oftentimes overlooked. The Mayor reported to you on how Michigan City has spent those dollars generated by the riverboat, collected and remitted Michigan City and the Michigan City Enrichment Corporation. What I'm going to tell you is economic value of the spending by Michigan City and the Michigan City Enrichment Corporation to LaPorte County's economy.

Our analysis doesn't include about 6.5 million dollars of on-going donations, or the 2 million dollars of land and boat slip donations, which, in a sense, were just a movement -- a change of property.

What we do look at is about 41 million dollars spent by Michigan City and the Foundation and we find that that generated over 67 million dollars in economic activities for LaPorte County, Indiana. If you look outside -- outside of LaPorte County, it's even larger; it created 995 new jobs and 20.5 million dollars in new wages.

Finally, the last thing we looked at was fiscal impact, which in a sense is a comparison of the amount of new revenue generated for Michigan City, and the Michigan City School Corporation, in comparison to the amount of additional costs, or service provision costs, imposed by the riverboat upon Michigan City, the civil city, as well as school corporation. found -- And for LaPorte County. We found that when you include admissions taxes in the fiscal impact analysis, that there was a positive impact for LaPorte County unit of government of between 3.7 and 4 million dollars. If you don't count the admissions tax, which generally isn't directed towards the operations of services, but rather towards infrastructure and other capital investments, we found that there was a negative impact of between of 73,000 and 92,000 dollars. I mention the word "negative", but I want you to think about it in a kind of very simple term, which is, that if you had the opportunity to invest 92,000 dollars, and somebody told you that by investing those 92,000 dollars you'd get a return of between 3.7 and 4 million dollars, I'm likely to think most of you would go ahead with that. And, in a sense, what the LaPorte County government structure is doing, is having to spend 92,000 dollars, or around there, of public services and time in order to gain the ability to invest between 3.7 and 4 million dollars in infrastructure and other capital.

Same holds true for Michigan City with the riverboat taxes; Michigan City experienced a positive fiscal impact of around 12.6 million dollars. Without the riverboat taxes, Michigan City also would have experienced a negative fiscal impact of about 234,000 dollars. However, again that's -- that is in a sense the equivalent of spending 234,000 dollars of effort to receive about 12.6 million dollars, which, as the Mayor told you, can be spent on many types of capital and human improvement efforts.

The last group we looked is the Michigan City School Corporation, and that's an important one to look at because they were one unit of government that does not receive admissions tax. The only revenue schools -- new revenues the schools receive from the riverboats are the property taxes paid by the riverboat, the hotel, and other improvements. Having said that, we found that because of enrollment impacts are estimated to be relatively negligible, which means not -- the riverboats do not bring a lot of new students to the Michigan County schools, the fiscal impact was actually -- of just the property taxes estimated to be a positive one of 720,000 dollars.

That -- Guess at this time I should also thank

Jack for the privilege of working with him, and -- and say, as always, if you have any questions, and Jack allows you to ask them, I'd be happy to answer them.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Yeah, I have a question. Okay, in the report, they're behind on the amount, or the percentage, of employees that come from LaPorte County. Do you know who many -- what percentage actually come from Indiana, though?

MR. KLACIK: Not off the top of my head. I guess the point I should make about that is that, we found that to be true for a number of the boats and generally, what we come to believe, given employment rates, is that in most cases when that was a very aggressive promise and that the limit -- the reason for missing that goal is, at least in part, explainable by the limited labor pool, as opposed to any failure of effort on the part of the Blue Chip or the other casinos where we found that happened. And I will promise to get you, if it's not in the report, the number of employees within the state.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Yeah, I'm just wondering if that would be a pretty sizable percentage.

MR. KLACIK: It clearly would be larger than just the LaPorte County number.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Okay, thank you.

MR. VOWELS: Any other questions for Mr. Klacik?

Amazingly, you always make this stuff interesting. . . All right. And then we have the question and answer period. I assume they have answers. Do we have any questions? 1 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Yeah, I have a question. 2 3 gave us the number -- or the percentage -- yeah, the percentage of minority employees and women and male and female. How many -- Do you have a breakdown in 5 terms of your management staff? 6 MR. LARSON: I'll direct that to Mike. 7 MR. DRIGGS: No, I don't have that. I mean, I 9 could get that, but I don't off the top of my head. 10 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I'm just curious because it's 11 one thing to be an employee sweeping the floors, and 12 it's another thing to be a supervisor. MR. DRIGGS: I don't know that number off of the 13 14 top of my head. 15 MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Okay, thank you. MR. GETTLEFINGER: Mr. Chairman. Earlier we 16 heard from the Pokagon Band. Would you want to make a 17 reply -- a response? 18 19 MR. LARSON: I guess maybe a brief response. 20 First of all, our consulting agreement with Kevin 21 Flynn was approved by this Commission. Secondly, Kevin Flynn has not gone -- been found unsuitable by 22 23 Illinois or anybody else; nor, have there been any findings of wrongdoing in connection with his 24 25 settlement with the State. And we acknowledge that we have an obligation to this Commission to report if there's been any change in circumstances in that. At this time there has not. And we also understand and acknowledge that if anything does change that the Commission will, can, reinvestigate the issue, at that time. But we don't think at this point it's come to that.

MR. VOWELS: I'm looking at what was submitted to us, these January 30, 2001, minutes of the regular meeting of the Illinois Gaming Board. And on page 13, one of the members moved for the Board to revoke the owner's license of Emerald Casino and find Donald Flynn and Kevin Flynn as unsuitable key persons. And there was a second to that motion. Motion passed four to one. Am I missing something?

MR. THAR: No. What isn't stated is that's not final commission action. That has been appealed, and as a result, the settlement agreement that has been pointed out was reached during the course of the hearing before the administrative law judge. So, the actions of the Illinois Gaming Board, to date, have not been finalized.

MR. VOWELS: In the past, when issues like that have arisen, have we not waited until the actions were finalized?

MR. THAR: Yes. We took the same position with regard to Horseshoe Casino and the issues that arose in Illinois concerning Jack Binion as a key person and a substantial owner.

MR. VOWELS: Okay.

MR. THAR: That also resulted in a settlement agreement where there was no finding of unsuitability but concerning Mr. Binion. If you will remember, the Illinois Gaming Board did approve the acquisition of the Empress Casino by Mr. Binion, but then later found Mr. Binion to be unsuitable, and then later withdrew that in favor of a settlement agreement.

We are watching this process the same. The question has been raised by the Pokagon Band of Potawatomies that, Will we reinvestigate this? What I would state was, this has never not been under investigation. And from a staff point of view, we have been monitoring what's going on in Illinois on a continuous basis.

The other thing is that, as pointed out about Mr. Larson, once the agreement was noted that it was not handed over, the settlement entered into, subsequently a somewhat modified agreement was approved by this Commission.

Whether we will take different action depends upon what happens in Illinois. And as we had 1 monitored and watched it, we are in a position right 2 yet where there's no final action to which this 3 Commission should review. But the point is, Boyd 4 Gaming has an obligation concerning anything that 5 should change that we may or may not know about to 6 7 advise us of. And we have an obligation to continue 8 to monitor, and we have been. That's correct. We monitor all the MR. MR. THAR: Then I will be quiet. I would like to know where the Blue Chip property sits in the Boyd group of properties in terms of it revenues, overall performance; is it in the upper echelon, bottom echelon? The way I read things, this may be one of the best performing properties you have.

MR. SNYDER: It certainly is one of the best performing -- the best performing in terms of cash flow, in terms of margins. It is a very successful operation. And I think it reflects the fact that it is not only well located, but it operates extremely well, and it is managed very well. We're very proud to have Blue Chip as part of our company.

MR. THAR: Then we can count on Boyd viewing this as one of the jewels they want to keep shined up in their family of assets.

MR. SNYDER: Very much so.

MR. THAR: And my last question is, and I've asked this recently. Problem gaming and compulsive gaming, whatever you want to call it, is becoming more and more in the forefront and so much of what is being said at these license renewal hearings is that, "Our staffs have been trained to identify problem gaming, problem with gaming, and we have brochures." So my question to you is a very simple one. How many people have your staff identified as being problem gamers and have been asked to either stop gaming that evening, stop gaming for a week or longer, so that the person can rethink whether or not they're over their heads in terms of their gambling?

MR. SNYDER: I think I'll have Mike Driggs answer that question.

MR. DRIGGS: Jack, if I could, I'd actually like to ask Lynn if she could -- the answer to that is none, because what we do, what we've been trained to do, is to point out the -- give the people the information, make sure they have the number. Because if we tell them to do that, that the experts have said that that does not stop the person. The person has to want to quit, and what we have to do is to point out to them their means to get the help to help them take the first step.

MR. THAR: Then maybe that's what I'm asking.

How many people have your staff gone up to and said,

Maybe you need to call this number. Maybe you need to seek some type of advice.

MR. DRIGGS: That I don't know. I can tell we've had 89 people that are self-evicted and we've had 23 that have asked to, you know, be reinstated that we have not let come back. That we tell anybody that has asked for information or that is asked to be self-evicted we give them the information that the We have recently at Lynn's suggestion, have sent out follow-up letters to all the people making sure that they have a pamphlet, making sure that they have the hotline number. But, again, we've been -that's just in our training, is not to kick people out of the casino, because that doesn't help the problem.

MR. THAR: Then what does your training focus on? If I'm a Blackjack player or a pit boss and --Blackjack dealer or a pit boss in your casino, you are training me to observe and do what, if I see somebody in on a repeated basis who may be losing too much?

MR. DRIGGS: Again, they're treated to -- or trained to tell the people where the number's available. Just ask them and give them the number, but not without, you know, kicking them out. they are trained to, you know, if they see somebody that appears to have problems, and it's a fine line between what is problem gamer and what is somebody that can afford it, but when they feel that that person has that problem, to make sure that they have the number, to make sure they have the card. sure they get the brochure and make sure they are, in fact, given that opportunity. Maybe that's the way

MR. STILLWELL: Executive Director Thar, Commissioners, my name is Rob Stillwell, and I thought I may be able to help add a little bit of color to this. I'm the company's Vice President of Corporate Communications, and one of my responsibilities is to make sure that our various properties have all the right information; from a regulatory standpoint, to hand out these brochures, "Don't Let The Game Get Out Of Hand, " and I can tell you that, over the course of a year, all of our properties -- any of the number that we're required to send them, we usually range from about 150 to 300 new brochures each year that we distribute. So, to give you an idea that our employees are actively passing these pieces of information out. The point which Mike made regarding the fact that it's not our job to ask them to leave; first of all, the way we're trained is that it's not our job to diagnose the problem; we're simply trained to be able to recognize some of the warning signs so that we can hand them the pieces of information and sometimes it's -- it isn't asked for, sometimes the employee is just a matter of saying, Here, I think you might want to look into this.

One of the things that our company, right at the core of our company operating philosophy, and Mr. Boyd would -- this is right from his mouth is, we want a fair game. If somebody that we identify in the pit area is, you know, too drunk, something like that, asking for extended credit, that sort of thing, we want a fair game; we're gonna turn 'em down. And to the extent that we regularly go through, whether it's new posters new brochures, "Don't Let The Game Get Out of Hand," it is a regular request on an annual basis; again, it ranges anywhere from a hundred fifty to 300 to fulfill the exhaustive supply of brochures that are handed out through the course of a year.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Mr. Boyd says that you should -- you should refuse them extended credit or whatever.

MR. STILLWELL: Yeah, we want a fair game.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: You want a fair game. Is that -- He says that is then filtered down? I mean, that actually happens that you turn people down?

MR. STILLWELL: You know, it isn't so often that you find somebody not able to, you know -- it's a real fine line between somebody who is in the pit and drinking excessively and somebody who might consider themselves too drunk, but if it's very obvious, yes, that is exactly how we might intervene in a given situation.

MR. DRIGGS: I can tell you here, if we have people and they're intoxicated, we ask them to stop gaming. So, that's, -- First of all, it's not fair. You know, does it happen, do people get too intoxicated? Yes. But when we realize that, our employees, our managers, our supervisors are trained to cut individuals off and have them stop.

MR. SMITH: And it has happened at each of our properties where we have turned people down for credit issuance or cut them off from gaming because they were too intoxicated. It is a normal policy throughout the company; we can point out a number of examples from each property. Judy Campbell is here from the Paradise today, but she can point out a number of examples that she has personally been involved in where that has occurred so. . .

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Now, I have a another question.

If somebody is too intoxicated, do you help them get home?

MR. SMITH: Yes. We will not leave them, or let them leave the property. We will try and get them a cab. I mean, at the end of the day, we can't lock them up, we cannot hold them against their own will, but we will attempt to get a cab; we will attempt to call family or somebody else who can accommodate them and get them home. Or, in some cases we will call the police and try and intervene, but we will do everything we can to not allow that patron to leave the premises with their keys.

MR. DRIGGS: We try to place them in a hotel room, if at all possible, if we have it available. So, we will get a taxi; we will do some way to get them home. We will not let them leave. If they try to leave, we will intervene; we will call the police. And if we do have to -- if it goes to the standpoint, although luckily we do have the state police on the boat; and properties that I've work at, we've literally effected citizen's arrest to make sure that an intoxicated person does not get on the road because that's just not the right thing.

MR. VOWELS: You talked about refusal to extend credit; you've talked about in terms of someone who is intoxicated; is that something that you've refused a person, who was not intoxicated, extension of credit when you thought it was inappropriate, if you did find it inappropriate?

MR. DRIGGS: Extension of credit is looked at, I mean all the time. We just don't extend credit lightly. We look at the person's ability to pay.

There's no -- It does not do any good to extend credit --

MR. VOWELS: To somebody who can't pay you back.

But I'm talking somebody who could pay you back, if it looks like they've got a problem as far as their addiction to gaming; is that something you focused on?

MR. DRIGGS: We've had that -- I can think of just one case of a customer that we have refused to grant more credit to, of a very top customer. You know, again, we look at every aspect and you can see if a person appears to be, you know, maybe gaming too much, and you do not extend credit.

MR. THAR: Are there any other questions?

MR. VOWELS: When I was coming up here from

Evansville, I got on MapQuest.com and put in "2 Easy Street". You guys aren't in that thing. And I don't know, Easy Street doesn't exist. You may want to check into that.

MR. SNYDER: We will, thank you.

MR. VOWELS: So, I went to your Web site; you might want to proofread your Web site as far directions; there's some incomplete sentences in there. I'm just saying that because there will be some other people, other than myself, who would go to that Web site, and I don't think it necessarily confuses things, but someone needs to proofread that

All right. Is there anything further? Okay.

Well, thank you. We have in our packet an "Order of the Indiana Gaming Commission Dealing With the Renewal for the Riverboat Owner's License of Blue Chip Casino, LLC". It's been pointed out to me that, if you have that in front of you, in paragraph -- it's the third paragraph, and it says number one, where it says Blue Chip has provided commission staff with remote dial-in to, it should be "Blue Chip's" slot and account management system, instead of "Horseshoe's."

I suppose, Mr. Thar, I should go through these to see if they will, in fact, agree to these conditions.

MR. THAR: Yes.

MR. VOWELS: All right. There are seven paragraphs in this proposed renewal, and I will ask you if you are agreeable to these conditions.

The first is that Blue Chip is to provide

1 Commission staff with the remote dial-in to Blue 2 Chip's slot and account management system; is that you're agreeable to? 3 MR. SNYDER: Yes. We certainly are. MR. VOWELS: I've got seven more to go here, so. . . Blue Chip is to post a bond in the amount of one million dollars to secure its economic obligations. Are you agreeable? 8 MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are. MR. VOWELS: And Blue Chip is to continue to 10 11 maintain adequate insurance pursuant 68 IAC 2-1-8; are 12 you agreeable to that? 13 MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are. 14 MR. VOWELS: And four, Blue Chip is continue to 15 maintain its commitment to the goals of Minority and Women's Business participation as set forth in the 16 17 statute Indiana Code 4-33-14, et seq.; are you agreeable with that? 18 MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are. 19 20 MR. VOWELS: Blue Chip is to maintain statistic 21 information concerning problem gambling, including, 22 but not limited to, the number of people approached by 23 Blue Chip or that approach Blue Chip suspected of having a gambling problem. Are you agreeable to that? 24 MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are. 25

MR. VOWELS: Blue Chip is to comply with all rules and resolutions that are adopted by and under which the Commission operates pending final promulgation of the rules. Are you agreeable to that?

MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are.

MR. VOWELS: Blue Chip is to keep the riverboat pavilion in compliance with all other state and local rules for the lawful operation of riverboat gaming, including, but not limited to: Army Corps of Engineer permitting, United States Coast Guard certification, and such other federal, state and local licensing, permitting, or certification requirements as are necessary for alcoholic beverage service, food service, construction and the overall public health."

Are you agreeable with that?

MR. SNYDER: Yes, we are.

MR. THAR: One point of clarification, if I may. I believe at the beginning of the day your bond was 2.1 million. We reduced it 100,000. Leaving the 2 million dollar residual bond that was put on at the time that the license was originally granted and when you acquired it. So, the one million dollars will be that another one million dollar reduction from that 2 million; is that the way you understand it?

MR. SNYDER: Very good. Thank you.

MS. DEAN: Yes.

MR. THAR: So, what will happen is, that Blue Chip will end up with a one million dollar bond.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Oh, I see. So, the one million replaces 2.

MR. THAR: The 2 million bond, yes.

MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Okay. Thank you.

MR. SNYDER: Good. Thank you.

MR. VOWELS: All right. Okay, are there any other questions or anything to be brought forward? Is there a motion in reference to this request to renew the riverboat owner's license of Blue Chip Casino, LLC?

MR. MILCAREK: Yes, I would like to verify or -or confirm all the things that Blue Chip has done in the city; I notice great changes; all positive, and I think they're an excellent company for Michigan City, and the money has been spent wisely. We have an excellent Mayor, who has gave this a lot of thought and done an awful lot for the City, and under her guidance with Blue Chip, as a -- as the company to support the programs, it's been very, very successful, and, with that being said, I would like to make a motion that we renew the license.

MR. VOWELS: Thank you. Is there a second?

| 125  |
|--|
| MS. BOCHNOWSKI: I'll second it.  |
| MR. VOWELS: Is there any further discussion?                                   |
| All those in favor say "aye".  |
| (Ayes in unison.)  |
| MR. VOWELS: Show that it is renewed.   |
| MR. SNYDER: Thank you very much.   |
| MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Mayor Brillson, am I to believe                                |
| that you're not going to be Mayor anymore?                                     |
| MAYOR BRILLSON: I have chosen not to seek                                      |
| re-election. The election in Michigan City will be                             |
| this spring and this fall, but I will not be seeking                           |
| reelection.  |
| MS. BOCHNOWSKI: Well, we have enjoyed working                                  |
| with you.  |
| MR. THAR: And the truth of the matter is, once I                               |
| heard that, there was no point in being Executive                              | | Director.  |
| (General laughter.)  |
| MR. VOWELS: All right. Is there anything                                       |
| further? So, is there a motion to adjourn?                                     |
| MR. GETTLEFINGER: Move to adjourn.   |
| MS. ROSE: Second.  |
| MR. VOWELS: All those in favor say "aye". (Ayes in unison.)                    |
| MR. VOWELS: We are adjourned. Thank you.  (Proceedings concluded at 1:35 p.m.) |
