National Community Development Week, April 1-5

Community Development Day

Please join Lt. Governor Sue Ellspermann as she celebrates the community development efforts that are revitalizing our Hoosier state during National Community Development Week. Elected community officials, colleagues from the community development field, and representatives from the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority, the Indiana Office of Community and Rural Affairs, and the Indiana Department of Transportation will join the Lt. Governor for an open house reception in the State House North Atrium.

Enjoy refreshments and informative displays from communities who have partnered with these agencies for a variety of comprehensive community revitalization and development achievements.

Thursday, April 4
1-3 pm
North Atrium of the Indiana State House
