CTE Principles Courses (ALL)

Program of Study	All Principles courses within CTE programs of study
Description	These standards for all Principles courses within CTE programs of study will assist students in obtaining the skills necessary to identify their life, educational, and career goals, specifically in the area of academic and programmatic offerings that support possible career choices. Students will focus on learning about employment opportunities and obtaining the knowledge, skills, and attitudes essential for success in specific occupations related to their program of study. Course standards and curriculum must be tailored to specific professions, preparing students to advance in this career field. Participation in a related CTSO encourages the development of leadership, communication and career related skills, and opportunities for community service.
