Overview

The Community Corrections Division works collaboratively with the Justice Reinvestment Advisory Council (JRAC) in the review, assessment, and recommendation of the Community Corrections & Justice Reinvestment Grants.

The 18-member Justice Reinvestment Advisory Council consists of leadership from both the executive and judicial branches of state and local government. The Advisory Council is charged with conducting state-level reviews of local correctional programs, county jails, and probation services, and the processes used by the Department of Correction and the Division of Mental Health and Addiction in awarding grants.

Governor Pence signed House Enrolled Act 1006 into law on May 5, 2015 (the effective date was July 1, 2015). Also known as Public Law 179-2015, this legislation established the nine-member Justice Reinvestment Advisory Council [IC 33-38-9.5]. The statute was amended in 2019 and 2020 to add additional members to the Advisory Council.

The statute was further amended in 2021 (the effective date was July 1, 2021) which established nine-member local or regional advisory councils for each Indiana county.

JRAC Members

The advisory council consists of the following members:

1. The Executive Director of the Indiana Public Defender Council (IPDC) or the Executive Director's designee.

17. The Ranking Minority Member of the House Courts and Criminal Code Committee or the Ranking Member's designee.
18. The Governor or the Governor's designee.

JRAC is chaired by the chief justice or the chief justice's designee shall serve as chairperson of the advisory council.

Purpose

The purpose of the Justice Reinvestment Advisory Council is to review policies, promote state and local collaboration, and provide assistance for the use of evidence-based practices and best practices in community-based alternatives and recidivism reduction programs, including:

- probation services;
- problem-solving courts;
- mental health and addiction treatment and recovery services;
- programs providing pretrial diversion;
- community corrections;
- evidence-based recidivism reduction programs for currently incarcerated persons;
- pretrial services;
- other rehabilitation alternatives; and
- the incorporation of evidence-based decision-making into decisions concerning jail overcrowding.

Duties

The duties of JRAC include:

- reviewing and evaluating state and local criminal justice systems and corrections programs, including pretrial services, behavioral health treatment and recovery services, community corrections, county jails, parole, and probation services;
- reviewing the processes used by the IDOC and the DMHA in awarding grants;
- reviewing and evaluating jail overcrowding to identify a range of possible solutions;
- coordinating with other criminal justice funding sources;
- establishing committees to inform the work of the advisory council;
- performing other relevant duties as determined by the advisory council;
- assist local or regional advisory councils in the implementation, promotion, and execution of evidence-based practices, and the best practices of community-based recidivism reduction programs.
